

Patient Consent and Privacy Practices Notice

This notice of our Privacy Practices provides information about how we may use and disclose protected health information about you. This Notice contains a Patient Rights section describing your rights under the law.

Patient Rights:

- You have the right to review our Notice before signing this consent. The terms of our Notice may change, at which time you may obtain a revised copy by contacting our office.
- You have the right to request that we restrict how protected health information about you is used or disclosed for treatment, payment, or health care options. We are not required to agree to this restriction, but if we do, we shall honor that agreement.
- You have the right to revoke this Consent, in writing, signed by you. However, such a revocation shall not affect any disclosures we have already made in reliance on your prior Consent.

By signing this form, you consent to our use and disclosure of protected health information about you for treatment, payment, and health care operations. The Practice provides this form to comply with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA).

The Patient Understands That:

- Protected health information may be disclosed or used for treatment, payment, or health care operations
- The Practice has a Notice of Privacy Practices and that the patient had the opportunity to review this Notice.
- The Practice reserves the right to change the Notice of Privacy Practices
- The Patient reserves the right to restrict the uses of their information but the Practice does not have to agree to those restrictions.
- The Patient may revoke this consent in writing at any time and all future disclosure will then cease
